

VECTOR® M-PA 726P

Speciality One Bag Mix for Corrugated Board

Introduction

VECTOR® M-PA 726P is a one-bag mix product designed for easy dispersion in water and rapid glue preparation.

The recommended solids of the final glue is 26% (commercial). This concentration can be adjusted to suit the mixing equipment and corrugator.

VECTOR® M-PA 726P has been designed to meet the requirements of specialised board manufacturing and is the product of choice for board production where the heat transfer is poor :

- For heavy-duty and agricultural double and triple-wall boards, the heat supplied by the hot plates must pass through several layers to reach the upper bonds.
- Microflute is also made with low levels of heat. Applying minimum glue and heat is a pre-requisite to obtain a flat and high quality printing surface.

VECTOR® M-PA 726P also reduces the maturing time required between the corrugator and conversion, minimising the volume of work-in-progress.

functionnalities giving corrugated board productivity and quality

Heat sensitivity

The adhesive reacts quickly and compensates for low rates of heat transfer to the bonds.

Rapid bond strength development

The bond strength is firm enough to prevent board opening up at the slitter/scorer.

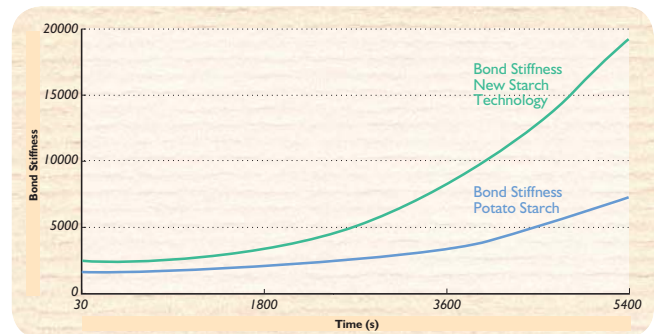

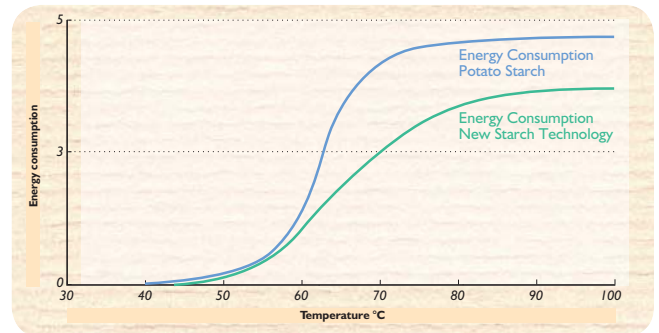

Rapid board maturing

Curing time has become an important issue. The growth of 'just in time' production and the installation of automatic board handling systems reduce the amount of board held in storage before conversion.

VECTOR® M-PA 726P reduces dramatically the curing time required.

Water resistance improvement

VECTOR® M-PA 726P has been designed to improve the efficiency of the cross-linking reaction with water resistant resin.

VECTOR® M-PA 726P gives high productivity and quality board production, for speciality board-grades including: heavy duty, agricultural and micro-flute boards.
